THURSDAY, Jan. 25-P. M. The fereign advices had a favorable effect, when first made known, on the Stock market, and the Board at the opening was strong. At the close lower prices ruled. At the Second Board there was a strong feeling in some descriptions, but generally the market was weak. Central was the firmest Stock, and sold as high as 891, an improvement of 1) $\psi$ cent. The deposits of gold by the George Law at the Assay Office are about $1,230,000, of which about $40,000 was ordered into bars, and the remainder into coin. The parcel of $40 000 alluded to was purchased, it is supposed, for shipment, by Rothschilds' agent.

The State Controller gives notice that he will pay $884 28, upon the surrender of each $1,000 bond of the Hudson and Berkshire Company issued under the act of 1847, to relay the track.

The George Law brings $1,270,000 on her manifest, which is about the amount expected, and makes up the semi-monthly shipments to nearly the usual two millions. The want of rain was still much embarrassing the operations of the miners, and checked the shipments of dust. A day or two, however, before the sailing of the steamer, there had been some rains, and it is hoped they would continue. In business there had been no marked change. Mr. Page, of the house of Page, Bacon & Co., who went out for the purpose of making some large remittances to the credit of his St. Louis house, had arrived, and the next steamer will, it is hoped, bring favorable ad-vices from him. All the friends of Page & Bacon are looking with much interest to the result of Mr.

Page's virit.

The gold by the George Law for Mesers. Duncan, Sherman & Co., was amicably transferred to Mr. Headley, who is paying the drafts of Messrs. Page, Bacon & Co., drawn against it, at the Bank of America.

The Post states its inability to explain the discreparcy between this amount and 345,000 acres mortgaged by the Road for the loan just negotiated. The explanation is by no means difficult. The 169,857 acres sold at $2.50 were a portion of the 2,000,000 acres under the First Mortgage, and of course should not be deducted twice. The true statement is as follows: The whole amount of land, as given in the report of Mr. David Neal, is:

It is stated that the expensive bridge of this Com-pany over Rock River, at Dixon, has been destroyed by a freshet. The particulars have not come to hand. An apparent attempt to defraud one of our banking Two drafts were presented for acceptance, drawn by a party on the Continent on the house alluded to, for $1,500. The house had received a letter of advice from the drawer, who was unknown to them, stating that he had drawn the drafts and that a highly respectable Canadian house had given him authority to draw and have the drafts charged to them. No orders of such an arrangement having been received from the Canadian house, they were telegraphed in relation to it, and immediately replied that the party al luded to had no authority to draw. There is either some curious mistake in this matter or the whole is another of those frauds which keen-witted Chevaliers d'Industry are continually concecting. The great usefulness of the telegraph was abundantly proved in this matter, as the inquiry was made and the answer received in return within an hour.
